

One of many natural and snowmobile-triggered avalanches in the Taylor Fork that failed during and immediately after this week's storm. Over 2 feet of snow fell from Thursday through Saturday overloading a snowpack with multiple weak layers. Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region Southern Madison Longitude -111.27W Latitude 45.06N

Avalanche Details: Whumphing and natural avalanches at Taylor Fork

Southern Madison, 2021-01-31