

This snowpit on a SE aspect was made up of a dense slab of recent snow, sitting on top of many different layers of junky, faceted grains. Propagation was easy to find (ECTP 11, HS: 112). Photo: GNFAC

Advisory Region Southern Madison Longitude -111.27W Latitude 45.06N

Avalanche Details: Whumpfs and Shooting Cracks in Sunlight Basin Southern Madison, 2025-02-21